New kids' book reinforces good character

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. – Santa Barbara author Donna Good Higbee is releasing an adventurous new juvenile fiction book about a very brave pelican and her friends in need. “Paula Pelican: Life in the Lagoon” releases nationwide this week!

There is only one thing Paula Pelican loves more than flying, and that's helping others. Whether it's a drowning sailor, a forest fire, or a hungry village, each day is full of excitement as Paula enlists the help of her sisters and her forest friends to prove that life can be one amazing adventure if you just have the courage and faith to go the extra mile.

Published by Tate Publishing and Enterprises, “Paula Pelican” will teach, inspire, and entertain young readers, as Higbee writes about the importance—and the fun!—of helping others in need.

The book is available at any bookstore nationwide or can be ordered through the publisher at www.tatepublishing.com/bookstore, or by visiting barnesandnoble.com, amazon.com or target.com. “Paula Pelican” is also an eLIVE title, meaning each printed copy contains a code redeemable for a free audio version from TatePublishing.com. eLIVE – Listen, Imagine, View, and Experience!

Higbee has written more than ten research articles and has been published in eleven countries around the world. She is listed in Marquis Who's Who of American Women and graduated with highest honors from the University of California, Santa Barbara, with a degree in religious studies.
